PLATINUM
DAYS OF LOVE

#ALoveThatRemembers

Things to Remember

The time when everything stood still,
But you stood right by me.

When lines between responsibilities blurred,
You painted colour in it with me.

When I pushed you away, needing my own space,
You still made sure that I never felt alone.

When I stopped liking what I saw in the mirror,
You became my true reflection.

When unknown were the moments of stress,
You learnt to recognise them for me.

When my mind started playing games,
You crossed the finish line with me.

When crisis took the wheel and dreams took a backseat,
You paved a new pathway with me.

When our rhythm was different than each other's,
You figured out a new beat.

When conflicts were inevitable in the time of no escape,
You fought not to argue, but to understand me.

When distance took my safe spaces away,
You grew closer to be one for me.

This all that I remember, this all that we learnt,
Is not just a thing of the past.

It's a love etched in memory
And will into the future last.

For a love like this, everything falls short
to express my gratitude.

For a love like this can never forget,
That a love like this is rare.

#ALoveThatRemembers

Platinum Love Bands are
a reminder of all these moments,
A symbol that marks
the promise that you'll always remember all that you're grateful for,
all that makes your love rare.

Why Platinum?

Born of the stars,

Platinum-

was brought to Earth
by a meteorite crash,
over two billion years ago.

With only trace quantities of the metal
found in select locations across the planet,
Platinum is thirty times rarer than gold.

Pure, rare, and eternal,
A fitting marker for this love you share.

Forged by Faith

When troubling tides led you astray,
Your faith in love led both of you back ashore.

Let the rippled motifs on these Platinum Love Bands remind you, that whether it's smooth sailing or navigating through rippled waters, your faith in each other can get you through it all. It is this unwavering faith that you're grateful for, and can only be marked with a metal that's just as resilient - platinum.

Built of Faith

With faith, you build your paths together,
Crossing over obstacles, moving towards your dreams.

The etched patterns on his and latticework on hers
are symbolic of how together you carve your own way forward, with absolute faith in each other. It is this faith in your love that you will always remember, as it stood every test of time. Much like platinum, whose density and non-corrosive properties, help
retain its form and natural whiteness.

21PTLBE07 | 21PTLBE08

Circle of Love

In times unsteady you kept afloat,
Reaching out to each other with love & support

The solid shafts on these platinum rings extend themselves to form a safe and secure loop, inspired by how the two of you extend yourselves around each other, forming a constant circle of support. Let these Platinum Love Bands remind you of how grateful you both are to always have each other to lean on. Just like your circle of support remains resolute through it all, so too does platinum's natural white colour, remaining unchanged even through years of wear.

Pillars of Support

When there were choices to make and pathways to pick,
Love became your guiding light.

The lines on these Platinum Love Bands resemble the paths and turns you've traversed together, hand in hand. Let them be a reminder of how grateful you are for always having had each other's back, come what may. Much like platinum's everlasting hold on diamonds, made possible due to the metal's intrinsic strength.
